Set the priority of running processes, monitor RAM usage and manage active applications to improve your computerâ??s performance and responsiveness. Everyone uses their computer differently, and this is why there is not an one-size-fits-all solution when it comes to customizing your PC to cater for specific apps and scenarios. Process Lasso is a tool that lends a hand with this, as it is a system optimization and automation utility that helps enhance system responsiveness and performance by dynamically adjusting the allocation of CPU resources to running processes.
